I saw a golden vision of a far-off land
An orange revolution at the bounds of time
I looked again and saw my world too cold
Too dark and bleak and hard to bear . . .

*Copyright 1966, "Distant Shores" by

I saw a time of loving and I wanted to return.
And now I bind myself to go
To reach and hold and linger in the sight
Of peacetime that is dearly won.

Mr. Robert H. Dunbar

DEDICATION

Communication is necessary if people are to understand, trust, and respect one another. Lack of communication causes such problems as the so-called generation gap, the race problems, and even wars. In a world in which few people realize the importance of truly listening to others and expressing unselfish concern and interest in their ideas, Mr. Robert H. Dunbar is outstanding in that he possesses the rare gift of being able to communicate with others.

Mr. Dunbar shows a great interest in the student's life in many ways. He teaches social studies, history of art, and Bible study. He is an instructor in the school driver education program, and faculty manager of football and basketball games. In each of these activities, he contributes that extra amount of interest and concern.

We, the student body of RMHS, would like to dedicate this year-book to one who has given so unselfishly of himself,——to you, Mr. Dunbar.

AFS

Sergio being made up before his performance in Ruddigore.

The Costa Rican airport was crowded. Sixty young students would soon be in a strange country, most of them for the first time and also, as in my case, the first time away from home. I remember the sad waves of my parents, relatives, and friends. Actually, I keep fresh in my mind the last sight of my wonderful country, through the plane's window.

Now I am staying here, enjoying every moment, making new friends, learning new ideas and a new way of life. I am very lucky. I am a welcomed member in a wonderful family, a welcomed student to Reading High, and I am part of your whole community of Reading.

I appreciated so much participating in the Senior Play. Also, I enjoyed very much being in the operetta, Ruddigore. I am surprised at the interest and responsibility each student puts into all the functions within the school. I notice a big difference between the Costa Rican school system and that of yours. The American system allows the student more ways to develop his own personality and also, it puts more emphasis on the actual world situation. My country is still striving for this goal. We are lessening our emphasis on memorization, and also we lack the equipment in our schools that you are so fortunate to have. However, Costa Rica has one of the higher educational standards in the world. Our government allows free education for every citizen and most of the country's income is spent in this purpose. I have applied to the University of Costa Rica. There I plan to be a chemistry major. I also enjoy writing and I am sure my American experience will influence it very much.

Soon, I leave these happy times and I take with me all your friendliness and consideration. Thank-you so very much for making this year so unforgettable for me. I am sure you will continue to bring foreign students to Reading where they will be able to share one year among you. Perhaps you will be giving to them the only opportunity to materialize a dream and also you will help to reach the goal of the A.F.S.: to dissolve misunderstanding from the earth and enhance the love which exists among all men.

Peace!
Sergio Brilla A.F.S. 68-69

Merry with her family in Cuneo at a country store.

As the A.F.S. student of the class of '69, I am spending my year abroad in Cuneo, Italy. The principal problem that every A.F.S.'er faces in the first months is the language—it is so difficult to communicate with people and learn of their thoughts and customs if one cannot even speak their language. However, the barrier grows smaller each week, and after a few months an A.F.S.'er really begins to appreciate and absorb every aspect of daily life. In my case, it is the Italian way of life.

The greatest experience of A.F.S. is becoming a true member of a foreign family—not just a visiting student. As a member of an Italian family I have had the opportunity to help in the kitchen and learn many regional recipes. I have met many of my A.F.S. Family's friends and have genuinely felt their warm friendship towards me. I was not only an American student but an Italian, a member of their society.

The A.F.S. school program has given me the chance to learn much more than just the surface aspects of Italian life. I have become familiar with the political and social opinions and problems of the young Italians. For example, many students have been dissatisfied with Italy's obsolete educational system. I have been in the middle of their discussions and strikes.

Through A.F.S. I have discovered the similarities of all peoples, whether they are Italian or American. We all have a mouth, a nose, two eyes, a mind, and a will to work. I know that I will never be able to thank the Reading A.F.S. Chapter and the students who participated in the A.F.S. drive enough for making this year possible. A.F.S. is one experience that is impossible to forget.

Ciao e Arrivederci,
Merry Taylor A.F.S. 68-69

Class History 1966-1969

September 8, 1966—a day of new teachers, too many stairs, and general confusion. We were off and running (in a hundred different directions at once).

After two weeks of pandemonium, we finally located such necessary places as the lavs, the lunchroom, and our lockers. Our teachers settled down after their summer's freedom and we resigned ourselves to three years of high school. Little did we know how quickly those three years would pass. **

Old Coolidge and Parker junior high loyalties were dissolved by the election of our first class officers—Jim Westra, President; Jane Erhardt, V.P.; Denise Horan, secretary; and Nancy Haley, treasurer. We were one.

By January, we thought we had the high school pretty well licked. Ha! Were we in for a surprise. The mid-years caught many of us off guard, resulting in late hours and last minute cramming. We resolved to study every night after that. But . . .

The last big event in our sophomore year was the Sophomore Hop with the theme "Moon River" and despite the snowy weather, all who attended had a wonderful time.

Term papers, homework assignments, boring lectures, weekends, Monday mornings—our junior year was off to a good start. The class officers, including newly elected secretary, Ellen Steen, called a meeting to make plans for the upcoming year.

Midyears were painful, but not quite as bad as the College Boards. Nothing could be worse than taking S.A.T.'s at 8:00 on a Saturday morning.

The years continued on and before we knew it, we were setting up decorations for the Junior Prom entitled "South Seas." Then, still shaking and wet from our last pool-side gym class, we said good-bye to our junior year. It was June—vacation time.

September 4, 1968—a day of new teachers, too many stairs, and general confusion. Our last, first day at R.M.H.S. We looked the building over carefully, assuring ourselves that all was in order—the floors neatly polished; the mirrors shining in the hall outside the lavs; and the detention bench ready and waiting. It was hard to believe that our three years were almost over.

Our class officers—Jim Westra, President; Larry Johnson, V.P.; Ellen Steen, secretary; and Barb Palmieri, treasurer, called us together to organize the new year's schedule. There were many things to think of in connection with graduation. Our senior year promised to be the busiest and most memorable we'd ever have.

One week hurried into the next, right on by the muddy, cold Thanksgiving Day football game with Stoneham.

Some of us applied to colleges quite early and set the pace of apply and wait . . . and wait . . . and wait. College Boards and mid-years were taken for the last time (Thank goodness!). Then came February—a little snow, anyone? How about three weeks of no school? February was gone and with it went our April vacation. Oh, well, we never did have anything to do over vacation, anyway.

Winter melted (right through the hole in the top floor ceiling by the elevator). We rushed quickly through our spring sports. Then it was June—our last two weeks—and boy, did they fly! Field Day, Senior Banquet, Talent Night, Class Day, Senior Prom, Baccalaureate, and finally, on June 8, 1969—graduation.

Goodbye Reading High,
We'll miss you.

Senior Class Officers

Ellen Steen, secretary; Barb Palmieri, treasurer; Larry Johnson, vice-president; Jim Westra, president.

SENIORS

Susan M. Adam

336 Lowell Street

Susie joined us as a junior, but she has contributed to our class greatly. Active in school, Sue has displayed many outside interests. She has tutored Puerto-Rican children, has sung in the church choir, and has served as president of her MYF group. Following graduation, Sue plans to attend a two-year school. Glee Club 4; Pep Squad 3; Jr. Prom Committee 3; Senior Play 4; Library Club 4.

Pamela D. Andresen

332 West Street

Dennis Baudanza
930 Main Street

Denny believes in enjoying life. He has a part time job at Goodall Sanford, but also manages to find the time to drum for several rock groups. He especially enjoys Mr. Nisco's classes. Denny plans to continue his education after graduation.

Laurie Baxter
415 South Street

"Some lucky doctor is awaiting you, Laurie!" This very busy blonde has been one of our best supporting members on the Pep Squad during our football seasons. She plans to attend a business school and become a medical secretary. Pep Squad 2, 4; P.F. 2; Senior Play Committee 4; Ski Club 4.

Robert E. Beaton

16 Boyce Street

Bob is one who always has a joke. He has shown his ability as a leader by being Master Councilor of DeMolay. His favorite class has been POD with Mr. D'Orlando. Bob would like to attend Franklin Institute and become a computer programmer. DeMolay.

JoAnne R. Beck

60 Dana Road

Cute JoAnne has been active on the Baton Squad. Mr. Ham is one of JoAnn's favorite teachers. She plans to attend a two-year college. Baton Squad 3.

Michelle Beaudoin

433 Pearl Street

Did you say talented and energetic? One of the best members of the Gymnastics Team, Michelle has fantastic abilities in this sport. She even plays the drums. Pretty and shy, she has helped represent RMHS on the Pep Squad for three years at our exciting football games. Gymnastics 2, 3, 4; Pep Squad 2, 3, 4; Softball 2.

Gladys L. Benshimol

175 Summer Avenue

Gay's casual and friendly manner helps brighten anyone's day. Gay may be considered a superior athlete, excelling in both tennis and basketball. RMHS will be sorry to have this hard-working, energetic member of the class of 1969, leave. After high school, Gay plans to attend a four-year college. Her quick puns will win many friends. RELAXATION isn't how long you take to eat. It's how much you enjoy the eating. At the Pewter Pot Muffin House, relaxation is the friendly atmosphere of an olde New England coffee house. Relaxation is being served good things to eat, by our famous Pewter Pot Muffin Girls. Even a 15-minute snack is almost as relaxing as taking the afternoon off. Try breakfast, or a muffin break with us and see.
